

Baby Shower Games and Memories

Being pregnant some women do not take pleasure in; the sudden odd cravings, the addition of a few pounds, the morning sickness, and the unforgettable back aches. The celebration of a new life, on the other hand, is something that every soon to be mother and friends love to enjoy. Bringing loved ones together to share a miraculous process and event can create lasting bonds. The gathering for a new additional member to the family with the festivities of a baby shower is essential. But what is a baby shower without the games? It is the key ingredient to any baby shower.

When one is hosting a baby shower event, guests are expecting to be entertained and engaged with the new bundle of joy to come. Baby shower games will create a lasting impression during any shower. The games will generate memories and amusement for all attendees. Emotions will fly high with laughter, excitement, and a bit of competition to keep guests on their toes.

The beauties of planning for a baby shower event are the vast different games selections to choose from. Some game ideas range anywhere from "My Water Just Broke" to a classic favorite "Measuring Mom's Waist/Stomach." Or for those with creative minds may come up with a new and unique game. Whichever the game selection route may be, the games provide a creative ice breaker to bring guests closer together. Not only this, but the games will provide a means of delight to retain the interests of guests; and perhaps, to avoid dull small talk such as weather and politics.

Prizes may be awarded to create friendly competition amongst guests, which will always add entertainment to any festivity. Depending on the host, prizes may retain the baby theme or can be gag gifts to keep the comedic atmosphere alive during a shower.

Expectant mothers cherish every lasting memory with their child during their nine months of pregnancy. And to know that loved ones can be entertained and joyful during a precious moment, such as a baby shower, will create the start of many photo opportunities to come. The memories created will be everlasting.
